IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Keytesville Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work. Then the aching frequently begins, and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this advice. It comes from a resident of this locality:

R. H. Ford, Shannondale, Mo., says: "Some time ago I had considerable trouble with my back and it bothered me to get up or down. My kidneys acted irregularly and I was compelled to rise several times at night. Several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief. Since then I haven't had much kidney trouble."

Get at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Last Tuesday he came for the booze and paid the c. o. d. charges and was getting ready to leave Marceline when the Chief of Police told him that if he took the whiskey word would be sent to the sheriff of Adair county. Giorgetti returned home leaving the booze on the platform. The law is very plain about hauling booze into dry territory.

Keep Corn Safe

Seed corn may be left on the rack where the ears have been dried. But it is generally preferable, says the United States department of Agriculture, to store the ears in mouse proof barrels, boxes, or crates during the winter. In any case they must not be exposed to dampness or they will absorb moisture and be injured.

After hanging in drying sheds, or lying on the rack where there is constant circulation of dry air for the first two months after they have been from the stalks in the field, the seed ears should be bone dry and contain less than 10 per cent of moisture. Some farmers place the thoroughly dry ears in the center of a wheat bin and then fill the bin with loose dry wheat.

If sign of weevils or grain moth show, the corn should be inclosed with carbon bisulphide in a practically air-tight room, bin, box, or barrel for 48 hours. The liquid bisulphide should be placed in shallow dishes on top of the box or barrel holding 10 bushels or less. The fumes from the bisulphide are heavier than air and gradually fall to the bottom of the receptacle, permeating the whole mass. One pound of the carbon bisulphide is enough for a room or bin 10 feet in each dimension. After fumigation the ear must be thoroughly aired whereupon the unpleasant odor disappears. Great care should be used with carbon bisulphide, its fumes being quite as inflammable as those from gasoline.

To prevent the entrance of weevils and moths the ear may be stowed in comparatively air tight boxes or barrels with 1 lb. of moth balls or naphthalene for each bushel of corn which is not injured. Ten pounds will protect enough seed to plant 60 acres.
